FOUR PWA BAY ST. LOUIS PUBLIC PROJECTS CARRY VOTE

4 BOND PROPOSITIONS CARRY AT CITY POLLS; HANDSOME MAJORITIES

PWA Projects For Community Pier and Beach Center,
Addition to Central School, Hardsurfacing Certain Streets and Increasing Waterworks Facilities—
Public Demonstration of Jubilation Follows
After Votes Are Counted.

All four proposed city bond issues for Bay St. Louis, voted on last Tuesday, carried—practically 6 to 1. As a result there was general jubilation
after the vote had been counted, tabulated and announced.

Mayor Blaize was called upon to make an address and took occasion to thank one and all for the co-operation with the administration that made success possible.

A parade of the public, headed by the band of St. Stanislaus College, under direction of Bro. Romuald, headed the long line on foot and many cars and trucks that followed.
This was a manifestation of joy and an outward expression of general satisfaction at the result.

Total number of votes registered, 887.

Total number of votes polled, 789.
Not voting of total number registered, 96.

Here is the official figures, in detail:

Municipal Pier, Etc.

For the construction of a Municipal Pier, Bathing Beach, Community Center and Harbor, the total cost of which amounts to the proposed issuance of $110,000 of Bonds, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the construction of said projects.

For the issuance of bonds, 644.

Against the issuance of bonds, 108.

School

For the construction of eight (8)
additional classrooms to the present Central School Facilities, for the purchasing of equipment for said class rooms, additional heating facilities for said additional classrooms and school, the total cost of which amounts to the proposed issuance of $23,000 of Bonds, or so much thereof
as may be necessary for the construction of said project and for the purchasing of said equipment.

For the issuance of bonds, 678.

Against the issuance of bonds, 64.

Streets

For the paving of certain streets
within the limits of the City of Bay St. Louis, the cost of which total the proposed issuance of $32,000 of bonds, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the construction of said project.

For the issuance of bonds, 697.

Against the issuance of bonds, 64.

Water Works

For the drilling of a new well
and making additions to the present water works system the cost of which total the proposed issuance of $10,000 of bonds, or so much thereof
as may be necessary for the drilling of well and making said additions.

For the issuance of bonds, 702.

Against the issuance of bonds, 60.

Only one voting place was used for this special election, at the City Hall, where the new permanent voting booths, recently built by the city, basement city hall. The new booths, 8 in number are built of lumber, permanently constructed and served to satisfaction of convenience and privacy and facilitated voting to fullest extent.

Election commissioners and managers were R. N. Blaize, M. E.
Toulme, A. J. Piazza, Clerks, John Egloff and Willie Watts. Peace and returning officer, Henry T.
Fayard, Sr.

The election was carried on peacefully and most orderly and voting began early in the day and continued briskly at a rapid pace all day.

Twelve tickets were wrongly marked and were counted void.
Voiding the ballots was caused by being improperly marked. On each of the twelve the voter had marked his "x" mark for and against, thus nullifying their value.

From the tabulated figures it will be noted the waterworks project
carried the largest number of votes, streets second, school third and municipal pier and community center fourth. The propositions entailing the smallest sums of money carried the biggest vote.

As known, all four propositions

T. Robin, 68, a resident of Jackson for the past 30 years, who died on

PROPOSED COMMUNITY CENTER BUILDING AND RECREATIONAL HALL FOR CITY BAY ST. LOUIS.

Architect's outline drawing of Bay St. Louis' proposed Community Center and Recreational Hall, for which $110,000 bonds were voted last week, to be supplemented by PWA funds, total-

SIDELINES CLUB PREPARES FOR THE FORTHCOMING EVENTS

Inspirational Spirit and Willingness To Do Dominates
St. Stanislaus.

An enthusiastic meeting was held
of the St. Stanislaus college Sidelines Club at the college Wednesday manifesting the increasing interest
night, with a splendid attendance, of the community in the club and athletic activities.

For Friday night's game, (tonight)
with Mount Olive, the club promised to see that the lighting would be increased to at least 70 per cent.
This will add considerably to the desirability of the scene to all concerned—to comfort and visual clarity.

Beginning tonight, it is also planned flags will be placed on chain marker poles. This will not only make for a more distinguished mark
but will add to the gala appearance and festal air of the games.

Several high spots in the proceedings of the evening clearly indicated
the Sideliners are going after things in a big way and nothing half-heartedly. A membership committee was appointed, composed of Leo G. Ford, Robert L. Camors and Junior Fahey, with a goal of 100 memberships for the next meeting.

Incidentally, the next meeting will be held on the evening of Tuesday, October 11, at 7:30 o'clock.

Among the interesting discussions was the object of the possibility of forming a Sidelines Ladies' Auxiliary. This will prove very popular and will meet with enthusiastic approval. A blank season ticket for $6.00 was suggested.

Home-Coming Day, Oct. 16

With annual Home-Coming Day
only a little more than a week off, naturally this subject came up for considerable attention, planning to make it a greater event than heretofore. A program was adopted that is brimful of good things. At noon there will be a shrimp boil, typical of this section of the gulf and coast;
in the afternoon a drive along the Gulf Coast, decorating the city in gala dress. Flags and bunting to be used in abundance and private residences to be decorated as well as places of business.

At the football game that day there will be special seats reserved for dads and grads. And a meeting in the gym of grads and members will be called according to Class.

Badges will be worn by all members of S. S. C. Sidelines. And for this important event of Home-Coming Day special reception committee was appointed, namely, Dr. A.
P. Smith, C. J. Gordon, Charles A.
Breath Jr., Charles Flink, U. S.
Cuevas.

Members of the Sidelines Club
ask not to forget date of next meeting Tuesday, October 11. There will be plenty going. Bro. Peter, president, expresses much satisfaction at the splendid progress and accomplishment of the Sidelines members.

BAY HIGH SCHOOL PREPS PREPARING INVASION OF RUGBY

Coach W. K. Bosarge Forging Ahead With Tigers
For Active Gridiron
Season

The Bay High Tigers defeated in two of their first three games this season, are forgetting the past and thinking about the future, particularly the Rugby Cardinals of New Orleans, as they go through daily work-outs under the expert guidance of their new coach, W. K. Bosarge.

The Tigers play host to the Cardinals, scourge of the Crescent City class B league for the past three years, this coming Saturday and no one knows better than Coach Bosarge himself that they will have to be at a peak in order to give the New Orleans team a hard battle.

Bosarge was a former Perkinson Junior college star before enrolling at Millsaps, where he gained fame as a fullback. The new Bay High coach was started on his present
career as head mentor at Glen Allen, Miss., where he lost only two games
in winning the class B championship two years hand running.

The Bay High schedule follows:

Louis.

October 15—Open.

October 21—Gulfport at Gulfport

October 28—Magee at Bay Saint

November 4—Moss Point at Moss

Stolen Truck From Jessie Gray Is Found Near Slidell, La.

Jessie Gray, who resides across

Ulmam avenue and Second street,
was the victim of hitch-hikers Wednesday night who entered his yard
and made away with his truck.

This matter was reported to the immediate Louisiana-Mississippi ter-

was found abandoned three miles from Slidell, La., and police there reported to county authorities who soon regained the property for its owner.

Mr. Gray had left the ignition key

A few hesitated as to whether they should help in the enrollment, since they were supported by the relief. As I see it the relief is a society at large, helping those in need. When a person helps National Red Cross he is helping one in a great need, a time of crisis. Thus showing to society that he is not only willing, but worthy of what society does for him.

Now may a much greater blessing
come to all our people for their help

STANISLAUS OPPOSES MOUNT OLIVE TONIGHT AT S. S. C. STADIUM

Invaders New to Local Outfit—Rocks in Good Shape
For Contest.

The Rock-A-Chaws of Saint Stanislaus will have as their opponents
the Mount Olive team from central Mississippi. The game will begin at 8 o'clock tonight (Friday), at the stadium.

Having no "dope" on the Mount Olive aggregation, Coach "Slick" Morton is taking no chances. He had his team in heavy workouts throughout the week. Last week's victory over the Biloxi Indians has only spirited the Stanislaus team to continue their good ball playing.

Frank Bell, first-string tackle, will be out of the game due to a leg injury. His position will be filled by Whitworth.

Rumors have it that the Mount Olive team is a "crackerjack" one.
The players are husky, speedy, and alert. They know their football.

The probable starting lineups follow:

Mt. Olive: Russell, Knight, Allbrit-
ton, Penn, James, Tyrone, Magee, McNair, McLeod, Westbrook, Little.
St. Stanislaus: Gibbons, Whitworth, Gianelloni, Taylor, Fix, Depew, Strong, Stalnaker, Hudson, Folse, Glover.

Tickets for the Mount Olive game
are on sale at the Beach Drug Store and at Arceneaux's Garage. Get your ticket ahead of time in order to avoid waiting at the gate. All patrons must present tickets at the gate as cash will not be taken.

D. M. Russell, Jr., To Open Law Office In Bay St. Louis City

D. M. Russell, Jr., young son of Judge Russell, who has been promi-nently associated at Jackson, Miss., has announced his intention of moving to Bay St. Louis for the practice of law and has leased the offices and equipment of the late County Attorney Emile J. Gex, Main street.
"Dannie" is quite popular with all who know him, a splendid mixer, with a thorough human side, and a graduate of the literary and law department of University of Mississippi, and well versed in his profession, he comes to Hancock county
under the most favorable auspices.
He is no stranger here and comes well acquainted. He will practice in all courts of the Coast and continuous territory, and will devote much of his time to office practice.
He is a most engaging personality
and will add to his list of friends and acquaintances.

On Friday last Judge D. M. Russell, Hancock county chancery court, in special session heard objections filed by certain tax-payers against the county issuing refunding and other bonds proposed to be issued by the Board of Supervisors of the county.

In presenting the cases, Attorney Robert L. Genin, who is employed to assist County Attorney Walter J. Gex, produced facts to the court showing conclusively that the Board of Supervisors was eminently correct in refunding these bonds; that it is to the best interest of the tax-payers and would materially reduce the tax levies of the county.

Judge Russell found these facts to be true and dismissed all objections filed to the bonds, thus validating
the entire issue proposed.

The bonds validated included the following: A county funding bond issue of $75,000; road and bridge refunding bonds in the sum of $288,- 000; refunding bridge bonds in the sum of $50,500 and refunding road protection bonds (seawall) in the sum of $1,043,000, making a total of $1,406,500.

Names appearing on the list of objectors, included Norton Haas,
George A. Spiers, R. W. and Ben F.
Lee, W. D. Davidson and H. G.
Welborn.

Regarding Seawall Bonds

In the seawall bond issue it appears that when these bonds were first issued the law regulating same contemplated that the bonds be paid out of the gasoline tax, but the law also provided that if there is a shortage of gasoline tax money collected that in such event the Board of Supervisors must levy a tax against real estate and personal property sufficient to pay the bond obligation as they matured, and the interest that would become due. It also appears that the tax levies, according such provisions of the law when a deficiency exists, have been made by the Board of Supervisors in the last few years against real estate and personal property to make the difference because of the shortage.

Now, if the (seawall) bonds are refunded as proposed by the Board of Supervisors, the maturities of these bonds are so arranged, extending them over a long period of years,
that the gasoline tax only (and no additional real estate or personal levy necessary) will take care of payment. In other words, the Board of Supervisors by refunding these bonds will make the obligation falling due each year considerably smaller and that the gasoline tax only will take care of such obligation.

It also appears that legislation on this suggestion has granted certain concessions to the Coast counties to use the gasoline tax money to pay these specific (seawall) bonds and when these bond obligations have been discharged the said gasoline tax collections will go to the State for other purposes.

It was, therefore, concluded by the Board of Supervisors to reduce the maturities of these bonds and take a longer time to pay for them, especially since the State money is available to Hancock county as long as the obligation carries on.

This is good business. And shows the wisdom of the Supervisors to reduce the present burden; to extend it over a longer period and especially while special gasoline tax collections are available to do so.

Another factor to be considered in refunding the bonds in the new issue would carry a far less interest rate than the present in vogue.
Bonds today are issued at far less rate of interest than the good old days of that period from 1923-25 to 1925-30. Would it not be a great saving to reissue the bonds at a rate of interest far below the present?

These are facts the Board of Supervisors have weighed and the best of economic minds agree with the proposed move. To object to the refund of bonds, in face of the above facts, seems entirely out of reason and based on some motive.

Funding Bonds

The $75,000 funding bonds are that proposed issue recently authorized by the Mississippi Legislature.

TEMPORARY PEACE IN EUROPE

THE leading statesmen of Europe got together last week in Munich and arranged the details of the transfer of the Sudeten area of Czechoslovakia to Germany, thus averting, for the present the threat of a great war.

The people of Czechoslovakia were called upon to make a great sacrifice for peace. Their attitude throughout the entire disturbing crisis was excellent and the behavior of government, soldiers and people aroused much admiration throughout the world.

Just how great was the accomplishment at Munich remains to be seen. If it leads to something like general appeasement it will rank as a momentous achievement, with credit going to Prime Minister Chamberlain, President Roosevelt and Italy's Benito Mussolini. If it is only a step in the acquisition of territory by Germany, to be followed by new crises as the German Hitler feels able to demand more, then the conference will not amount to much in history.

Herr Hitler has scored avictory for Germany by securing the Sudeten area but he has done Germany greater harm by definitely aligning Great Britain on the side of France and Russia in any future warfare over Central Europe. Moreover, his enlarged demands, submitted to Mr. Chamberlain at their second meeting after Czechoslovakia had accepted, in principle, the cession of the Sudeten area, definitely showed his hand and demonstrated that German aims were not confined to the acquisition of the people of German race in Czechoslovakia.

It is probably too much to expect that the agreement in Munich will be followed by an easing of tension in Europe, with the nations reducing their preparations for war. Such a step can only come when the future shows plainly an intention on the part of Germany and Italy to live in peace and to abandon their purpose to use militar force to gain their national ends.

As it is, the world is the gainer if war is postponed. There is the chance that it may be averted altogether. If it comes later it is safe to assert that Great Britain, at least, will be better prepared than she is today, and many will share with The Echo in this opinion.

MURDER BY MOTOR CAR.

MURDER by motor car is on the decline, according to the National Safety Council. Traffic accident fatalities for the past nine months have registered a steady decline. This decline has taken place in the face of a slight increase in mileage figures.

All of which seems to indicate that the speed crazed mass of 40,000,000 drivers, known as the motoring public, is slowly awakening to a new found responsibility—safe driving. Possibly the average driver is discovering that the modern high speed automobile can be a vehicle of horrible death as well as of comfort and convenience. If so, a great stride is being made toward the day when once again the family car can be trundled out for a week-end holiday with reasonable assurance that all will return intact.

Sooner or later the motoring public will have to get the fact through its head that the present slaughter on highways is criminally needless. As was recently pointed out by the New York Times, "it will have to learn that murder by motor car—although it may not lead to the chair—is still murder and that it is the part of good morals, good sportsmanship and good citizenship to drive and walk safely."

A VOTE OF CONFIDENCE TO THE ADMINISTRATION.

RESULTS of Thursday's special municipal election proved gratifying to our people as a whole to the most satisfying degree.

Our people cast their vote in the affirmative practically 6 to 1 and all four projects went over with overwhelming majority, leaving no doubt as to the wishes of the public.

A few were opposed to the propositions, possibly from various slants. Some voted more for one or more of the issues than for the others, but the total result indicates the general trend of our people—for a continued march of progress, for greater and better things and for the continued success of the community and prosperity of its people.

Such splendid and decisive result is, indeed, a vote of confidence to the administration, composed of the men who will handle the problems of building and finances. And as such we grant it to the Mayor, to the two Commissioners. Their constituents have every faith in both their integrity and ability and they will handle the colossal enterprise in a manner, we feel certain, that will prove to utmost satisfaction.

GOVERNOR WHITE EXTENDS INVITATION

HON. Ed Lipscomb, Director Mississippi Advertising Commission, states that a multi-graphed letter, bearing the signature of Governor Hugh White, has been sent out by his department to 255 prominent delegates to the National Catholic Conference, which meets in New Orleans, Louisiana, in October. The letter is an invitation to the delegates to travel through Mississippi en route to and from the conference. A copy of the Mississippi picture book was sent to each delegate under a separate cover.

BUY WISELY.

BUY the things you want and can afford to have. That is the thought expressed in a fine editorial printed recently in the Mansfield, Ohio, News-Journal.

"There's too much inactive money," the editorial says. "There has been postponement of buying clothing, furniture, floor covering, draperies, electrical conveniences of various small items."

"Construction of new homes, or remodeling of old ones, has been put off."

"Out-dated automobiles have been continued in use by motorists who can afford a new car. All of these things have contributed to a general slow-down of industry and business—thus encouraging the reign of fear that has engulfed so much of the nation."

"Money is of no earthly good—except for use!"

"Earn, spend, save," is a formula under which individual and national progress is assured."

The man who spends less than his means would normally dictate, is as much of a burden on the country as the man who continually spends more than he can afford. This country possesses an almost limitless market for commodities of all kinds. We need more homes, more cars, more roads, more farm and factory machinery, more clothing, more labor-saving devices in home and industry. It is purchases of things such as these that make new jobs, new purchasing power, higher national income, and greater opportunity for both capital and labor.

Spend wisely and frugally. Keep your budget balanced. Don't get yourself in a hole. But always remember that sound spending is vital to the maintenance of our standard of living, to the advancement of recovery, and to the ultimate attainment of prosperity.

HANCOCK COUNTY'S HEALTH OFFICER.

DR. C. M. SHIPP, Hancock County health officer, will deliver the principal address in Bay St. Louis next week at the P-T. A. meeting announced elsewhere in The Echo columns. Subject of his address is "Health and Safety," a more important and one of more immediate interest could not be selected.

Dr. Shipp will handle his subject not only interestingly to the laymen but in that thorough manner for which he is well known, making a study of all subjects appertaining to his wide field of operations as county health officer.

We have never had a more painstaking and more efficient worker in public field than this gentleman whose cordial manner wins half the battle in which he is interested. Hancock county and its people are especially fortunate in having as its health officer one who has made himself both universally popular and his services well nigh indispensable. A man communicative at all times, one of approach our people over the county do not hesitate to seek his advice and service. In this wise the Board of Supervisors are serving the public far exceeding the usual manner. While here Dr. Shipp has made many lasting friends and in turn the public have found him a most gentle and lovable character.

"STATE PLAN" FOR NEEDY AGED AND BLIND.

THE State Department of Public Welfare, W. F. Bond, Director, has spent a great deal of time during the month of September preparing what is called by the Federal Authorities "A State Plan" to submit to the Social Security Board for approval, which, according to Mr. Bond, will serve as a basis for the co-operation of the State Department of Public Welfare of Mississippi, with the Federal authorities in carrying out the provisions of the Federal Social Security Act. This plan outlines in detail all of the rules and regulations governing the serving of the needy aged of the State over sixty-five and the needy blind. The document has to have the approval of the Attorney General's office as to its provisions being in harmony with the state laws, and also of the state treasurer as to the availability of the finances provided by the state legislature. The plan is now complete, according to Mr. Bond, and is in the hands of the Social Security Board. As soon as this Board approves the plan, it will govern the activities of the State Department so far as the needy blind and the needy aged are concerned for the next two years.

NONSENSE FROM MARY.

THE honorable Mary Pickford, world-famed star of the screen, reaches a new high in nonsense by suggesting an international strike by women to prevent war.

To prevent this threatening war, the former movie star says that women "should walk out of offices, factories, stores and homes and refuse to take part in any activity until their men themselves refuse to fight."

Apparently realizing the foolishness of such an idea the former actress admitted that "there is a utopian weakness in such a scheme." This is a mild comment. The idea in fact, displays a lack of thought and its public presentation, while the nations of Europe look war in the face, exhibits a lack of judgment.

Some years ago we admired Miss Pickford's talents on the screen. Then and later, we were convinced that she was a woman of sense as well as charm. It may be possible for many people to continue this opinion if Mary will just keep her mouth closed, and stop making such statements.

REMEMBER COLLEGE STUDENTS.

NOW that many young men and women from this county are away from home, attending college, it might be a good idea to call their parents' attention to the fact that these students would appreciate receiving The Sea Coast Echo during the school term.

After all is said and done this newspaper is something like a letter from home. It gives many local news items which would otherwise be missed by the absent students. Moreover, it will enable them to keep up with affairs in their home county and thus keep them up-to-date on public matters. Term of subscription is $1.00 for the entire season.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

OUR FAVORITE NEWS COMMENTATOR.

(West Point Leader)

COUNTLESS thousands of interested American citizens will probably agree with us that H. V. Kaltenborn, news commentator for the Columbia Broadcasting company, has rendered a conspicuous service to the nation and to the world during the breath-taking European crisis.

You will, therefore, be interested to know something of this man, who appears to have intimate knowledge of so many phases of European diplomacy, and who is personally acquainted with so many of the men who are now directing the destinies of the Old World.

As the Birmingham Age Herald says: "For years to come millions of Americans will associate inseparably with this crisis the clipped words and precise thoughts of Mr. Kaltenborn. His performance has been extraordinary, * * * and he has made himself an unforgettable part of the history with which he has dealt."

which he has dealt."

Mr. Kaltenborn, who is a native of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, recently celebrated his sixtieth birthday. He is a Harvard graduate and his career is replete with interesting contrasts. He was once a traveling salesman in France. He married a German baroness. He was a reporter on the Brooklyn Eagle. He was a private tutor in the family of John Jacob Astor and as such traveled with and taught Vincent Astor. He was a sergeant in the Spanish-American War. He has written books, served in many capacities on many newspapers, but it is as a radio reporter and Commentator that he has found his greatest success.

If you have been impressed with the value of the radio during this emergency, you have doubtless been doubly impressed with the fact that Mr. Kaltenborn, speaking the languages of most of the countries involved, intimately familiar with intricate problems, has served as radio's voice.

Borrowing $90 to pay the first month's rent, he secured an old house in Omaha, Neb. From this humble beginning, Boys-Town, with its beautiful buildings, fine farm and self-sustaining industries has grown. Forty-three hundred neglected boys have passed through Father Flanagan's city and of these ninety-five per cent have learned useful trades and have become respected and self-supporting citizens.

OCTOBER

OCTOBER comes all gold and brown.

Frost on her ruddy face;

She weaves on earth a purple crown,

With scarlet gems of grace.

October sings in rustling leaf,

A rhapsody of tears;

She binds the crops with golden sheaf,

And in bright dress appears.

October runs fast down the bill,

Whistling with wind and rain;

October brings a breath to chill,

Mingles with love and pain.

October dares Death on the air,

Wilting as in a dream;

October covers nature fair,

With sunshine's sparkling gleam.

October pulls a startled leaf,

Robs flowers here and there;

October is a wanton thief,

Yet who'd with her compare?

Chancery Court Validates $1,406,500 Hancock County Bonds

and there seems no grounds upon which to contest reason for validation.

These bonds are to discharge obligations that the county must pay and there is no questioning the legitimacy of these obligations, a large number of which represent funds to match federal funds for relief work the benefit of which the people of Hancock county have received.

Attorney Robert L. Genin, representing Hancock county and the Board of Supervisors, has felt quite certain in the matter of the courts validating the bonds for, after much research and study of law and court reports, he saw no valid objections could be sustained with any amount of reason.

Judge Russell was quite certain in his rulings and it is indeed refreshing to note his decision in overruling all objections.

Any adverse decision would be to hold the county back, to embarrass the public and to reflect on the credit of the county. And certainly our people would not wish to subscribe to this state of affairs.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

APPLES are grown practically everywhere and are one of the least expensive fruits. Long before anyone thought of vitamins, they were considered a valuable health asset. They add variety and flavor to the diet, served raw, cooked as an individual dish or as a garnish for a platter. These recipes will assist you in serving apples often and in helping the family appetite satisfied.

Apple Sandwich

Select a large red, juicy apple, wash and core, but do not peel. With a cookie cutter, cut thinly sliced bread into rounds the size of the apple. Blend some peanut butter with sufficient honey to make it spread easily. Spread on the bread and slice the apple. Put together sandwich fashion.

Fried Apples

Fried apples are delicious for breakfast served with crisp bacon or sausage. Core and slice with the skins on and cook in a little melted butter. Sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Serve hot.

Apples and Sweet Potatoes

Place in a baking dish a layer of peeled and sliced apples, dot over with butter and pour over them 2 tablespoons of sorghum, then a layer of raw sweet potatoes, cut thin and sprinkle with a little salt, butter and sorghum. Repeat until dish is full. Cover and put in slow oven until potatoes are soft. When done the apples should be just about all absorbed by the potatoes. Place marshmallows on top and put in oven to brown.

Apple Roll

3 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup flour
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon water
1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
Salt.

Add sugar to well beaten egg yolks, add water and lemon juice. Sift dry ingredients together, add alternately with stiffly beaten egg white. Bake in a greased biscuit pan in an over 350 degrees. When done turn out on a damp cloth. Cover with stewed apples and roll. Dust with powdered sugar. When ready to serve, slice.

Baked Apples in Cream

Core and cut the apples in slices, sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Heat cream to the scalding point and pour over the apples. Cover the apples halfway and bake in a medium oven.

Apple Pudding

Stew and sweeten 8 large apples. Flavor with cinnamon and nutmeg. Make a boiled custard, using 2 egg yolks, 1/2 cup sugar and 2 cups of milk. Pour over stewed apples. Beat 2 egg whites stiff, add 3 tablespoons of sugar. Put on top of custard. Bake in slow oven for 15 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

Jellied Waldorf Salad

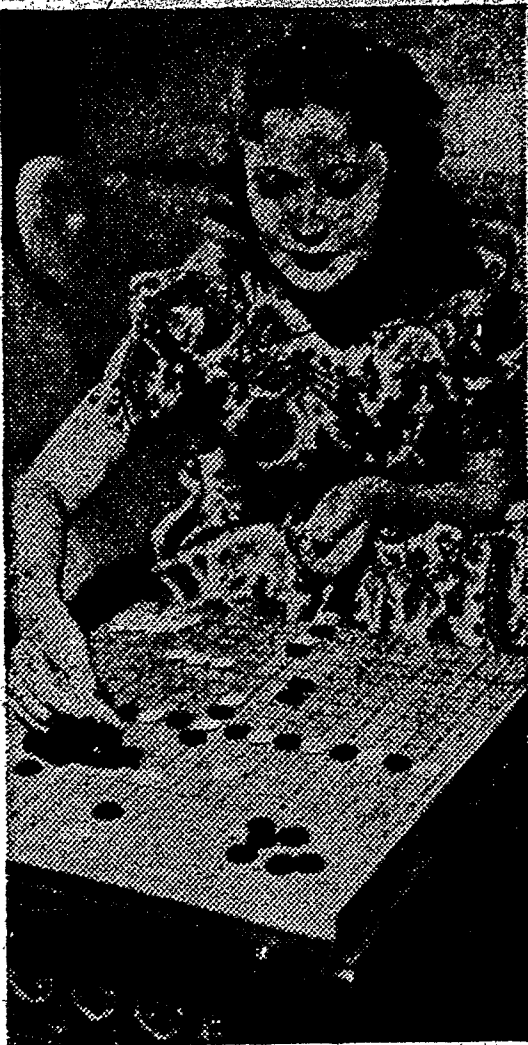

1 tablespoon gelatin
c cup cold water
1-3 cup sugar
1 cup apples, diced
1/2 cup celery, diced
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water

Soak gelatin in cold water about 5 minutes. Add boiling water, sugar and salt. Stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken stir in apples and celery. Turn into a large mold or individual molds that have been rinsed in cold water. Chill. Unmold on lettuce and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Serve with mayonnaise.

Apple Ring and Carrot Salad

Cut large rosy apples into inch slices. Core but do not pare. Place on lettuce. Fill the center with

PLAYING GAMES IN HOLLYWOOD

The Boy (absently)—No, honey, I intend to give them all up.

grated raw carrots. Top with a green, pepper star. Serve with French dressing.

Baked Apples With Prunes

6 firm red apples
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 cups cider
2 cups prunes, stoned and cut in pieces
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup sugar

Prepare apples for baking and place in a baking dish. Make a paste of the butter and brown sugar. Fill the cavities of the apples with this. Add the cider. Cover the baking dish and bake at 400 degrees until tender. Mix the prunes with the spices and brown sugar. Cook for ten minutes, stirring constantly. Fill the cavities in the apple with this mixture. Serve hot or cold.

MOST
"TROUBLES"
Never HAPPEN

YOUR VOICE, when it takes a trip by telephone, travels over a delicately balanced and highly complex electrical system. Hundreds of things could happen to break up your voice's path. Most of them never do.

These potential "troubles" rarely materialize because the men who direct and operate your telephone system have not been satisfied merely to repair damage after it has taken place. They have demanded that weak spots be sought out and corrected beforehand. All the nineteen thousand Southern Bell employees, in one way or another, join in this effort.

Subscribers' lines are checked periodically from the local testboards. The intricate equipment in the central office is tested constantly, particularly the relays and contacts. Emergency power supplies are provided.

Underground cables are filled with gas to detect leaks in the cable sheath. Aerial cables are checked, open wire lines are patrolled, to stop the "breaks" before they occur.

Men and money are required to do this never-ending job of "preventive maintenance," but the work is in keeping with the Bell System's aim to give you a telephone service that "is more and more free from errors, imperfections and delays."

Pulpwood Situation In Mississippi

Although there are only three pulp and paper mills at present within the State located at Moss Point, Laurel and Greenville, there are in addition six other mills that get a portion of their pulpwood supply from Mississippi forests. Colored Woman, 20, Charged With Theft Of Ring and Money.

Deputy Sheriff F. J. Bopp worked up quite a case against a colored woman charged with stealing cash and a diamond ring from the house where she was employed as a domestic and made the arrest last Sunday, charging the woman with the crime.

Olivia Gray, colored, aged 20, residing in Sycamore street, was arrested Sunday by the deputy sheriff and lodged in the county jail awaiting further action.

Olivia was employed in the home of Mrs. Stone, at 651 North Beach boulevard, and while working there a diamond ring, valued at $500.00, was stolen from and belonging to Mrs. Stone, and also $110.00 cash belonging to Mrs. L. C. Fordham, a guest of Mrs. Stone. The money was kept in a pocket book.

Suspecting the colored woman, after tracing her movements about town, where she made a number of unusual purchases, Deputy Sheriff Bopp took her finger prints and those found on the pocket book, both corresponding. On this evidence and the fact that unusual purchases were made about town, were sufficient evidence to charge and arrest the woman suspected.

Olivia Gray, says the sheriff's office, was arrested about two years ago on somewhat similar charges. The missing money, all but $30.00 was recovered.

Property Worth Owning Is Worth Preserving.....

THE VALUE of a building whether it be dwelling or store house depends on its condition. This may best be kept to the high point by repairing when such attention is needed and keeping the surface painted. Frequent painting not only sustains value but prevents decay and deterioration.

Paint is the cheapest and most efficient form and lasting element for preserving the surface. Let us give you an estimate on the cost of paint required. We will suggest colors, quality and give all information desired about painting and tell you the kind to use. Our service is free.

NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCTOBER 9 TO 15

Mississippi State Forestry Commission Presents Facts And Figures for Hancock County.

Mississippi Forestry Commission and Extension Service co-operating is centering considerable attention on National Fire Prevention Week, which will cover that period of October 9 to 15, inclusive. And local county forestry service is busily engaged in promoting the provisions of the proclamation.

In this connection the State Forestry Commission has compiled interesting information, supplied by statistics from the Extension Department, 1934 census reports. The information is carried on the heading, Do You Know—

That Hancock county has 756 farms with an aggregate of 39,233 acres or an average of 52 acres per farm?

That of the 52 acres 79 per cent is classed as woodlands; and 21 per cent as crop land and plowable pasture?

That the county contains 300-160 acres and only 2 per cent is being cultivated or pastured?

That the burning of forests is the burning of homes and industries that will never be built?

That every farmer with a little industry can protect his woodlands by plowing a few furrows around the lines and again a hundred feet inside and burning out the intervening strip during the winter months.

That fire prevention promotes growth of timber; enriches the soil, conserves water and encourages wild game?

That the people of Hancock county cannot live, support schools, roads, county and state government, pay the mortgages on their farms, and utilize only 2 per cent of their lands. How long would you keep three of your four mules idle?

That fire prevention and common sense cutting practices are all that is necessary?

That timber in the woodland is money in the bank?

That every acre should grow some useful crop?

That the Mississippi Forestry Commission and the Extension Service will be glad to render you any assistance in working out your woodland problems?

LOCAL BOY GETS APPOINTMENT
New Orleans, Oct. 5.—William S. Goldman of Bay St. Louis has been accepted for enrollment in the new Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit at Tulane University in New Orleans, Captain Walden Lee Ainsworth, U. S. N. chief of the unit, announced today. Young Goldman, a student in the college of engineering, is the son of J. B. Goldman of Bay St. Louis.

Creation of new units at Tulane and U. C. L. A. this year brings the total of such naval corps to eight, Captain Ainsworth said. "Tulane was chosen for a unit because it offers such fine facilities for the study of naval science and tactics," the captain said.

The old gymnasium has been turned over to the naval R. O. T. C. and renovations amounting to $10,000 have been made to accommodate the corps with the best facilities for class and drill work. A modern rifle range is also being constructed on the campus.

The search still goes on for the ideal exponent of the violin-playing hero of the Clifford Odets' play "Golden Boy." One day, the phone rang in the bureau at Columbia studio and a voice asked if the studio would like to have Jess Willard for the part. A courteous attendant answered that he was afraid Jess Willard was not quite young enough for the part. In ten minutes a young man and his manager stood in the office. "This is Jess Willard, Jr., said the manager. "I manage him as well as his father. This young man is just out of Washington State University, and we thought he might fit the part." Young Jess promised to rival his famous father in physique but is trying to express himself through the arts rather than hammer his way to fame with his fists. The search for the "Golden Boy" still goes on.

Smart fashions adorned by the stars: Jean Arthur was seen dancing recently at one of the smart night clubs, in a black Chantilly lace robe-de-style frock over white taffeta. The dress had cherry red velvet shoulder straps and belt. Jean wore a perky bow of matching velvet in her high coiffed hair. A very romantic cape of black velvet lined in the same red as her dress was the final accent for her costume.

One of the first hoop dresses seen in Hollywood was worn by Jacqueline Wells. Her dress was of deep blue taffeta, fashioned with a demure neckline and huge, slightly below the elbow sleeves. The voluminous skirt is worn over many petticoats and a large hoop. Bordering the sleeves, neckline and the entire hemline is a chartruese velvet band which matched in exact tone her short cape.

Reflecting the glory of the eighteenth century is the black velvet picture frock which Kallock designed for Gloria Stuart to wear in Columbia's "The Lady Objects." The tiny basque waist, long sleeves and high round neck are typical of the period. With this costume Miss Stuart wears a choker of pearls and a pearl ring as her only ornaments.

Misses Arthur, Wells and Stuart are about three of the many film players typifying the trend towards

CHADDY'S CHATS FROM HOLLYWOOD

THE readers of the weekly funny papers will be glad to hear that the old favorite "Blonde," will soon appear in films. Columbia is busy casting the roles for the picture which is based on Chic Young's popular comic feature. Last week, two attractive youngsters, one blue-eyed, and the other brown-eyed, both blonde, four year olds, were signed. Larry Simms who will play the role of "Baby Dimples," is the child whose color photograph appeared on the front cover of a national magazine. Dan Mummert, was selected for the role of "Alvin," playmate of "Baby Dimples," hails from Texas. He gained national publicity, while still less than two years of age, for his remarkable intelligence. At that time his mind was rated as approximately that of a boy seven or eight years.

Hugh Herbert claims that he has accustomed a goldfish to stay out of water as long as twenty minutes and to propel a toy auto by flapping its fins. Wul Wul Not all the film stars live in mansions. James Cagney is living in a small three-room dwelling formerly occupied by servants of the man who owned the property before Cagney bought it. There's a reason, however. Cagney tore down the house that was on the ten acre estate and is getting ready to build a new one. He left the servants' quarters standing so he and his wife could move in while the main house was being built.

An investment of thirteen dollars and seventy-five cents is now worth more than a thousand dollars! Frank Pinney, who bought a ten-year-old jalopy, has seen his idea turn into a real investment. He saw a car in the junk yard priced at fifteen dollars. He argued the dealer down to thirteen seventy-five, wrote his brother, Jack and a friend Eugene Lester, and met them en route to California. Through the magic of their idea and the friendly co-operation of famous film folk their car is now worth more than a thousand dollars. It has the unique distinction of being the only mechanical automobile book in the world. In weather-defying white lead, written on the top, back, sides and hood, are the names of dozens of Hollywood's famous film folk. It now bears about one hundred and fifty names. They had a real streak of luck, when G. S. York, Hollywood chairman for Motion Picture's Greatest Year campaign, made a deal with them to boost that drive. For a guarantee of "groceries," they agreed to have the slogan "Motion Pictures Are Your Best Entertainment" painted on the old jalopy. They have started homeward, with a number of personal appearance theater dates tentatively arranged in principal cities along the way. Nice investment, eh what?

Columbia Studio has acquired the screen rights to the Broadway play, "Our Wife," and has announced it as the first co-starring vehicle for Jean Arthur and Cary Grant. Although they have both been under contract to the same studio a long time, this is the first time they are to be co-starred. No director has as yet been assigned.

The search still goes on for the ideal exponent of the violin-playing hero of the Clifford Odets' play "Golden Boy." One day, the phone rang in the bureau at Columbia studio and a voice asked if the studio would like to have Jess Willard for the part. A courteous attendant answered that he was afraid Jess Willard was not quite young enough for the part. In ten minutes a young man and his manager stood in the office. "This is Jess Willard, Jr., said the manager. "I manage him as well as his father. This young man is just out of Washington State University, and we thought he might fit the part." Young Jess promised to rival his famous father in physique but is trying to express himself through the arts rather than hammer his way to fame with his fists. The search for the "Golden Boy" still goes on.

One of the first hoop dresses seen in Hollywood was worn by Jacqueline Wells. Her dress was of deep blue taffeta, fashioned with a demure neckline and huge, slightly below the elbow sleeves. The voluminous skirt is worn over many petticoats and a large hoop. Bordering the sleeves, neckline and the entire hemline is a chartruese velvet band which matched in exact tone her short cape.

Reflecting the glory of the eighteenth century is the black velvet picture frock which Kallock designed for Gloria Stuart to wear in Columbia's "The Lady Objects." The tiny basque waist, long sleeves and high round neck are typical of the period. With this costume Miss Stuart wears a choker of pearls and a pearl ring as her only ornaments.

Misses Arthur, Wells and Stuart are about three of the many film players typifying the trend towards

NEW ADVENTURES OF HARDY FAMILY ON A. & G. SCREEN.

Judge Hardy's family is turned loose for the fourth time in "Love Finds Andy Hardy," which opens at the A. & G. Theater Sunday and Monday.

The same group which won wide recognition for its work in "Judge Hardy's Children," is found in the new episode, with important additions to the cast in Judy Garland and Lana Turner, making this the most pretentious of the series.

With George Seitz again directing, an inside story of the drama which is to be found in every American family is unfolded in an amusing and realistic manner.

Attention has been given to the romantic problems facing young boys and girls in a small mid-western city. Their heart-breaks and happiness, amusements and adventures are authentically painted against a background of the home.

Lewis Stone again plays Judge Hardy, kindly, understanding and discerning head of a family of five. Mickey Rooney, as his son, Andy, is a happy-go-lucky, irresponsible youth, growing up and finding that such things as girls exist in the world. Judy Garland has been added to the cast, bringing her remarkable singing voice and indisputable acting ability to the role of one of Mickey's three girl friends. She sings three songs in the picture.

Of interest is the debut of Lana Turner, sensational new discovery under the Merto-Goldwyn-Mayer banner. The supporting cast includes Cecilia Parker, for the fourth time daughter of the family, Fay Holden as the mother, Betty Ross Clarke as Aunt Milley, Gene Reynolds, Ann Rutherford, Mickey's "steady" girl, Marie Blake, Don Castle, Mary Howard, George Breakston and Raymond Hatton.

The story is a simple, unaffected treatment of the difficulties encountered by Mickey Rooney when he purchases a second-hand automobile without telling his father of his plans. Consequent difficulties drive him to a despair from which he is rescued by the wiles of Judy Garland.

SUMMER MUST FADE.
SUMMER, sweet Summer must soon fade,
And leaves fall from the tree!
Deserted then will be the glade,
Bringing regret to me.
Where fly all the happy birds away,
Their songs forever stilled;
Where are the blooms of yesterday,
Which our hearts once thrilled?
Where are the friends we loved and met,
And played beside the sea;
Where are the dreams gone in sunset,
Calling fondly to me?
Where are the hopes we wove so long,
In every passing breeze;
Where are the notes of Love's old song,
Lost in Time's mysteries?
Gone hopes and dreams in Summer's train,
Gone flowers, birds and song;
But gently on our hearts they've lain,
And we'll treasure them long.

GULF THEATER TO PRESENT "OLD CHICAGO" SUNDAY.

Once again Zorro crashes the screen in another grand story of revolt and Mexico. Having won fame for his grand portrayal of the famous Zorro, John Carroll, a New Orleans boy who made good, returns to greet us once again in perhaps the grandest story of his career, "Rose of the Rio Grande," bringing with him Movita in love, new adventure, new setting and new songs, the outstanding one being the "Song of the Rose," which is heard as the theme throughout the film attraction. Plus 6th chapter of "Robinson Crusoe of Clipper Island," and $115 Bank Note.

Sunday, October 9, the Gulf Theater at Waveland proudly presents for your approval, Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche in 20th Century-Fox's greatest historical, musical attraction, "In Old Chicago."

The story is built around the famous fire which destroyed practically the entire city. Many theories have been advanced as to the chief cause of the fire, and now at last is your chance to see the most widely accepted cause of this great catastrophe, one which compares in devastation only to the earthquake of San Francisco.

Besides the historical build of the picture three great stars add to its being the season's outstanding film fare, Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche, marvelously aided by Alice Brady, Andy Devine and Philip Brooks.

Remember this show plays Sunday, October 9, one day only. Universal News reel and short subjects. The regular feature with the Three Mesquites returning as "Purple Vigilantes" in a story taken from David Livingstone's journal, the man who first really explored and revealed the dark continent.

CLOSEUPS OF A SHEARER-TYRONNE POWER LOVE SCENE.
History records that Marie Antoinette and the gallant Count Axel de Fersen fell in love at first sight. "On a Hollywood sound stage Norma Shearer and Tyrone Power are about to recreate the scene for "Marie Antoinette" which will be shown Sunday-Monday and Tuesday at the Paramount Theater at Gulfport. At the moment, however, the stars are seated on the sidelines, sipping orange juice.

Power appears taller than his six feet beside Miss Shearer, who is seated on a specially constructed two-foot stool. Her gown of gray silk billows around her feet. It weighs 50 pounds, including the steel paniers of the period that support it and ten petticoats.

"This will be a 'take'," says Director W. S. Van Dyke II.

The scene is a close-up Power taking Miss Shearer in his arms. Van Dyke orders the set quieted down while Miss Shearer walks slowly back and forth. In a few minutes, tear come to her eyes.

"Roll em," the director orders. "I thought love came more happily," says Miss Shearer. "What are you saying," Power demands.

"Perhaps that great love comes with tears," Miss Shearer smiles, wistfully.

Power looks at her, dazed and incredulous. Then his scruples swept away by the expression in her eyes, he kisses her. Miss Shearer's head falls on Power's shoulder.

"Cut," says Van Dyke. Miss Shearer starts to laugh, and says to Power, "Hold me tight."

"What's the matter?" asks Power. "I caught my foot in the hem of my dress," explains the actress, "and if you don't hold me up I'll fall down."

LARRY SCHARFF CELEBRATES THIRD NATAL ANNIVERSARY.

Quite a merry group of youngsters assembled on the lawn of the premises of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Scharff, Sunday afternoon—at Cedar Point, on the beach.

The occasion of this gala event for the juveniles was a celebration of Larry Scharff's third birthday, and one that not only he but his guests will not soon forget—so enjoyable it proved throughout.

A long, appropriately decorated table, was center set with a huge birthday cake, of pink and white, in keeping with the decoration color trend. The usual refreshment of ice cream and individual cake was served and later in the afternoon, the traditional party game of "pinning" the donkey's tail in position triumphantly brought the party to a close, as the fast-ebbing October day faded into the approaching shadows.

In addition to many favors, none were more outstanding than the party caps, special children size, and with the greeting of "Happy birthday," lettered in large type on the encircling band front of each.

Included in the number of those noted were, Maylynn Fayard, Martin Noto, Laura Ruth, Neil, Sonny and Bernard Wolfe, Roger Heitzman, Jr., Betty Jane Vassalli, Norma June and Leroy Noto, Bobby Mitchell, Mack Haas, Joan Elliott, Margalo and Hon-orine Damborino, Albert Hitt, Jr., Beverly Allen, Temple Perkins, Gary and Jimmie Gilmore, Jean and Camilla Fernandez and a number of adults accompanying the children and special personal guests.

Larry is one of the two children (sons) of Mr. and Mrs. Scharff.
